Part of the pediped® philosophy includes giving back through service and volunteerism. Our company enjoys spending time in our local Las Vegas area community as stewards to initiatives in which we believe and cherish. From children's education and clothing initiatives to supporting feeding the hungry, our corporate team is invested in jumping in together to volunteer in our community.

pediped® footwear understands that nothing is more important than your child's safety. The materials used in children's products are often a concern for parents, especially when those products find their way into little ones' mouths! Leather is one material that may be of particular concern. Rest assured that pediped® footwear is committed to offering only products that adhere to the most stringent standard for leather safety guidelines available. These guidelines, known as the British and European Safety Standard for Toys (EN 71-3), ensure that infants and children's products do not contain harmful levels of any toxic substances. We also comply with all product safety rules and regulations as established by the US Consumer Product Safety Improvement Act (CPSIA).
